

Northeastern

360 Huntington Avenue, Boston, MA 02115

April 28, 2026

To Whom It May Concern:

Having just taught Isabella (Bella) Boateng in my MKTG 4504 course, I have nothing but high praise for Bella's acumen, work ethic, and consistently solid contributions to our class discussions and projects. Bella stood out for asking smart questions, introducing pertinent examples, following up on her classmates' comments, and working well with her group members. Their final project envisioned a new product line for Bath & Body Works, for which they were required to build out an integrated campaign. Bella did great research to understand the competitor space and helped drive her group's strategic conversations and eventual plan. The document they produced was thorough, the accompanying brand materials were richly illustrative, and the creative sense overall showed a quality understanding of core B&BW taken to the next level with a distinct new brand that complimented their pre-existing architecture.

Bella will be a stellar contributor wherever she goes next! I give her my full endorsement.

Best regards,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Chad O'Connor".

Chad O'Connor, M.A.

Adjunct Faculty for D'Amore-McKim School of Business and College of Professional Studies

c.oconnor@northeastern.edu

617-571-5262